"German Syrup"

We have selected two or three lines from letters freshly received from parents who have given German Syrup to their children in the emergencies of Croup. You will credit these, because they come from good, substantial people, happy in finding what so many families lack—a medicine containing no evil drug, a medicine which can administer with confidence to the little ones in their most critical hours, safe and sure that it will carry them through.

Ed. L. WILLIAMS, of Alma, Neb. I give it to my children when troubled with Croup and never saw any preparation act like it. It is simply invaluable remedy.

Fully one-half of our customers are mothers who use Bosch's German Syrup among their children. A medicine to be successful with the little folks must be a treatment for the sudden and terrible foes of childhood, whooping cough, croup, diphtheria and the dangerous inflammations of delicate throats and lungs.

The Standard Trotting Stallion, ROMEYN 6256

Will make the season of 1891, from April 1st to July 1st, at—

ROMEYN'S STABLE, NORTH SIERRA ST., RENO, NEVADA.

Description and Pedigree:

ROMEYN 6256 was foaled 1884, stands 15½ hands high, weighs 1,150 pounds, and is a horse of magnificent conformation. He captured the State Fair premium at Sacramento in 1888, as a standard bred two-year-old stallion, against one of the best show of horses ever held in the West. He is a beautiful dark bay with dark points. He is remarkably intelligent, of good disposition and spirited. He is well boned and muncled up, speedy and game; qualities which he imparts to his progeny.

ROMEYN 6256 is by Mambrino Wilkes 6083 (sire of Gus Wilkes, 2:22; Alphea, 2:27; Balkan, 2:29½; Bay Wilkes, 2:29 and Clara P., 2:29½), he by George Wilkes 619, record 2:32 (sire of Harry Wilkes, 2:33½; Guy Wilkes, 2:16½; Mike Wilkes, 2:16½; Wilcox, 2:16; Wilson, 2:16½; So So, 2:17½; J. A Summer Outing for Working Girls.

Another month, and girls who belong to the working girls' clubs in this city will flock to the summer homes of the association. There are three of these—Holiday House and Holiday Harbor, within a half mile of each other at Miller's Place, L. I., and Brookside House at Mountainville, Orange county. The former accommodate thirty girls each, the latter twelve. Space in the houses is divided among the clubs in proportion to their membership and is reserved until July 1. After that time rooms that have not been applied for may be had by any club member. In order to give all the girls an opportunity to enjoy a vacation at one of these places the length of each guest's stay is limited to two weeks. These houses are self supporting, although they give the girls a needed vacation at a minimum of cost. The entire expense of the trip aside from the new clothes, without which no really feminine girl goes anywhere, is only $7.50. The terms for board are three dollars a week, to be paid a week in advance of departure.

A sort of general agent has been appointed who classifies all applications for accommodations, and is prepared to say just how many girls take advantage of this opportunity. She is Miss Kate Walsh, and her headquarters are at her club's rooms in Thirty-eighth street.

An interesting little story is told about the founding of these homes. One day about four years ago a lady, a stranger, called upon Bishop Potter and told him she had $7,000 she wished to devote to some philanthropic object. She could not make up her mind, and so she begged him to suggest something. He mentioned beds in hospitals, missions, homes, orphan asylums, but nothing seemed to suit her. After she had called several times the idea of a summer home for working girls, in connection with the clubs in which his daughters and nieces are interested, occurred to him. This was just what she wanted. She paid the $7,000 in cash to the bishop, departed, and has never been heard of since.—New York Recorder.

Fresh Air for Families.

Another charitable organization, the purpose of which is to give to entire families opportunity to enjoy fresh air, has come into existence. A society has been incorporated with the name of the "Gilbert A. Robertson Home." It was formed under the terms of a devise of about $125,000 made by the will of the late Mrs. Gilbert A. Robertson. The trustees for the first year are William Nelson Blakeman, Jr., Elliott Smith, Charles D. M. Cole and S. Sidney Smith, of New York, and E. Clarence Hovey, of Brookline, Mass.

The home has purchased about seven-acre tract of land a short distance north of Yonkers, on the high ridge of ground between the Hudson and Bronx rivers. The property includes a large house and outbuildings. There it is proposed to give to poor families, free of expense, short periods of rest and recreation. While the fund provided is a large one, it has been deemed advisable to receive public contributions, and those wishing to aid the charity may do so by becoming associate, active or life members or patrons.—New York Recorder.

Elopers Met with a Shotgun.

There was a little wedding at Caraway Springs, Tenn., Sunday night, and as a result two fond hearts are happy and a stern father is further angered. Charley Wright has been forbidden the entire of Henry Williamson's house, whose daughter, Louisa Williamson, was the object of young Wright's affections. After much coaxing the old man still withheld his consent, but Charley got a license and resolved to steal the girl. Old Henry heard of this and shut the girl up for a month.

Sunday night, at church, the old man stayed behind to talk to the preacher, when Wright grabbed her and rushed to Esquire Armstrong's and the two were married. They then went to see the father next morning, but he stood in the door with a double barreled shotgun and ordered them not to come inside.—Cor. Louisville Courier-Journal.

Deadly Poison on Coins.

The many friends of Miss Clara Meredith will regret to learn of her death. Miss Meredith was the daughter of Edward Meredith, and was cashier and bookkeeper at the Bates House. About ten weeks ago she became ill, and while the physicians were unable to determine the exact nature of her disease, it was supposed to be blood poisoning, the result of handling a large amount of coin. Miss Meredith had the common habit of rubbing her fingers across her face and ear, and as an eruption appeared on these parts which soon spread throughout her entire system, it is thought that impurities from the coin were communicated to her system.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Two Buildings in a Race.

There was a lively race between the crews moving the two buildings from the May lot on Court street, in Auburn. It so happened that the route of both stores was down Main street, and the buildings were of the same size. Captain Cain started his building a day and a half after the other had left the location on Court street, and by lively work and with plenty of apparatus he overhauled it at the Park House. Here Captain Cain says that he jokingly demanded the right of way and the other fellows turned their building into Academy street and let him pass.—Lewiston Journal.

EXCESSIVE DUTY.

Manufacturers of patent tin pails at Buffalo, New York, have been obliged, in consequence of the excessive tariff on tin plate, to remove their factory to Canada. The Buffalo Courier interviewed the manufacturers on the causes which compelled them to remove their factory to the British possessions, and summarizes the result as follows:

1. The Buffalo manufacturers have been compelled to start a factory in Canada to supply their export trade.
 2. At the Canada works they can turn out the finished product for what the tin costs here.
 3. Wages have not been advanced, but the cost of living has.
 4. The American tin-plate is not in the market, and manufacturers cannot get it.
 5. The imported tin-plate, which costs $3 62 a box in Canada, costs $6 here.
 6. That the increased cost of tin plate has ruined the manufacturer's export trade and thus made it impossible for him to pay higher wages.
 7. That tin pails can be made in Canada and imported into this country, paying 50 per cent. duty as manufactured product for 15 per cent. less than they can be made here.
 8. That the rebate of duty on exported goods is of no value to any but a few of the largest manufacturers, because it costs more to collect than it comes to.
 9. That other American manufacturers are intending to remove to Canada.
- It is daily becoming more apparent that the McKinley bill has failed to raise wages or increase manufactures. In fact it is having the opposite effect, and, as in the Buffalo case, is driving a certain class of manufacturers out of the country. A tariff for revenue in these days of billion dollar Congresses will be high enough for all practical purposes, and if properly adjusted would be far more beneficial to the people than the McKinley monopoly bill, which Blaine says "does not make a market for one more bushel of wheat or barrel of pork."

A SILVER SYNDICATE.

Reports from New York indicate that a syndicate has been organized for the purpose of speculating in silver bullion. It is, of course, transacting its business quietly at present, as it does not want the price of silver advanced until it has purchased a large stock of bullion, and is in a position to control the supply to a considerable extent.

Speculators are aware that a bill for the free coinage of silver will be introduced early in the next session of Congress. It is reasonable to expect that it will pass both Houses of Congress, and in the event of its being vetoed may be passed, notwithstanding the President's objections, as the standard dollar Act was over the veto of Hayes. But, however that may be, the fact that Congress is expected to favor free coinage will be sufficient to enhance the market value of silver bullion next Fall. The United States is the greatest producer of the metal, and if the syndicate purchases what bullion is offered it can compel our own Government, as well as Europeans nations, to pay very near coin prices for it. As a general rule the public are not benefited by trusts, though Mr. Blaine said "they are largely private affairs with which neither President nor private citizen has any particular right to interfere," but the JOURNAL will frankly confess that it would be willing to accept Mr. Blaine's view, so far as the silver trust is concerned, if it could send silver up to $1 29 per ounce, and keep it there. It would be some satisfaction, and a great deal of benefit to the people of Nevada, to have a trust not only compel England, but our own Government as well, to pay its full coinage value for every ounce of silver bullion produced in the United States.

George J. Gibson, Secretary of the Whisky Trust, was indicted for conspiring to blow up the only distillery that would not join the trust. Now that distillery has been bought by the trust and an effort is being made to quash the indictment against Gibson on the ground that the Federal statutes do not govern the case. As the distillery people have nothing to gain by prosecuting Gibson, they having sold out to the trust, it is probable that the case will be dismissed.

Sir John A. MacDonald, Premier of Canada, died last night. He was born in January, 1815, in Scotland, and was educated at Kingston, Ontario. In 1844 he was elected to Parliament. He was mainly instrumental in confederating the Canada and marine provinces under one government. For over forty years he had been the acknowledged leader of the Conservative party in Upper Canada, and his Premiership was indorsed at the recent election.

THE BARING FAILURE.

Attributed to a Yankee Pill Peddler. New York, June 6.—As soon as the collapse of Baring Brothers was announced the New York World sent a staff of correspondents to the Argentine Republic to investigate the causes precipitating the failure. After a thorough investigation a correspondent sends a remarkable story showing how Charles H. Sanford, a Yankee drummer for the sale of pills and toilet preparations, secured membership in a drug firm at S. B. Hale & Co. in Buenos Ayres, and after making one million dollars by a financial coup, went to London and won the confidence of Lord Revelstoke, the head of the Baring firm; thence returning to Argentine and investigating untold millions of Baring's gold in doubtful enterprises and securities.

After the Provincial Revolution Sanford intrigued in the interest of a popular loan and cleared over a million. Then he went to London and talked to Lord Revelstoke of the boundless resources and wealth of the Argentine, and returned to South America with the millions of the Baring bank behind him to spend and invest.

By subsidizing government officials Sanford obtained a great water works contract. The estimated cost of the works on which interest was to be allowed was $36,500,000 gold. The price of the concession to Baring Brothers was twenty-one million dollars gold, payable to the Minister of Finance in three installments. It is estimated that Sanford expended $3,000,000 in bribing officials. Sanford also secured a personal commission, putting him high above water. The Government liability to Barings on the single enterprise is nearly $30,000,000. The losses from the water works, however, will not be as great proportionately as in the purchase of bonds and securities. Amounts ranging from ten to fifteen millions were obtained by the various provinces for internal improvements. The loan to the Province of Cordoba is more than the entire province is worth. Barings also have large investments in railroad bonds, but these will yield fair returns in time.

A DASH FOR LIBERTY.

A Convict on the Way to Sing Sing Escapes.

Special to the Journal. NEW YORK, June 6.—Joseph Shannahan, a convict on the way to Sing Sing to serve sixteen years' sentence, escaped from the Deputy Sheriff at the Grand Central depot this morning. Shannahan was one of a batch of eleven prisoners to be taken to Sing Sing. They were divided into three groups. The second group, in which was Shannahan, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Burke, had just stepped on the platform of the car, when Shannahan's hand shot up and the handcuff fell off. Shannahan jumped across the platform and made for the entrance to the railroad yards. As soon as he jumped Deputy Sheriff Burke fired a shot at him and started in pursuit. He fired three shots more and was gaining on Shannahan when he tripped on the track and came down, dislocating his shoulder. Shannahan dashed on to 45th street, where a cab was waiting for him and he jumped in and drove off. The theory of the escape is that Shannahan had a handcuff key furnished him by confederates.

Apaches on the Warpath.

Special to the Journal. TOMBSTONE, June 6.—E. B. Gage, Superintendent of the Grand Central mine, received a telegram to-day from Arizpe, Sonora, announcing the killing of Frank Catham by Apache Indians fifteen miles from Arizpe. Catham was twenty-six years of age, and lived in Tombstone. He was employed as swamper of a mule train. There were two other men with the train, and how they escaped is unknown, though it is understood the remaining two men kept the Indians away, as the teams and freight were reported safe. One of the teams had 5,000 pounds of giant powder. It is believed the Indians will make for Southern Arizona. Ranchers have been notified and will keep a careful watch for them, as they are determined upon the extermination of the band of Apaches.

Threatened Suspension of Coinage.

Special to the Journal. SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Employees at the Mint have been agitated for a week or two by rumors that the end of the month of May would see a wholesale dismissal of coin makers. It is said that the reason for such a step would be the stoppage, wholly or in part, of the coinage of silver and it is believed this policy, if adopted, would affect all branch Mints in a like manner. Superintendent Dimond said to-day he had as yet received no order to reduce his working forces. He had heard various reports as to the suspension of silver coinage at the end of this month which closes the fiscal year, and would not be surprised to receive official notice at any time of such a change. He said that there was now in the vaults of this Mint $36,000,000 in silver dollars, but that there was storage room for at least that much more, so the reason for the suspension of coinage could not be for lack of vault room.

A Horrible Outrage.

Special to the Journal. GRASS VALLEY, Cal., June 6.—Yesterday on Squirrel creek, a Chinaman was most horribly mistreated. He was working a gravel claim for Tin Loy, a Chinese merchant there. Two young men and a man about 45 years of age went to the Chinaman's claim and demanded his money or gold dust. He said the dust was taken to town every day to Tin Loy. The three men then proceeded to torture the Chinaman to make him give up his gold. They ended by thrusting a broom handle up the poor fellow's bowels and breaking off the stick. The Chinaman managed to get to town and was treated by a surgeon, but is so badly injured he may die. He says he can identify the men who committed the outrage, but the officers have no clue upon which to work.

Stopping Placer Mining.

Special to the Journal. SACRAMENTO, June 6.—Robert T. Devlin, special counsel for Sacramento county in the suits against the hydraulic mines went to Yuba City two weeks ago and secured injunctions from Superior Judge Davis commanding eight different mines on the North and Middle forks of the American river to cease operations. The papers were put in the hands of agents of the Anti-debris Association to be served. The agents returned to-day and reported that the papers had been served, and that the mines had been stopped. Mr. Devlin accordingly reported to the Board of Supervisors what had been done in the premises. In addition to these suits brought in the State Courts, a number had been brought previously in the United States Circuit Court in the name of the Federal Government.

A University Scandal.

[Copyright 1891, New York Associated Press.] Special to the Journal. BERLIN, June 6.—A scandal attaches here to a well known Professor in the University of California, who is charged with sending his young wife and the two grown daughters of his first wife to Germany and leaving them without support, and refusing them the money necessary for their return home. It is possible the Professor has an explanation which is not known to the people here, who are interesting themselves in the family.

Insanely Jealous.

Special to the Journal. SALT LAKE, June 6.—In a fit of jealousy caused by suspicious conduct on the part of his wife, Sam Liday, a restaurant keeper, this morning shot her alleged paramour, John Kirby, night yardmaster on the Rio Grande Western, then his own child aged five years, and after firing a shot at his wife turned the pistol on himself and committed suicide. Kirby will die.

Counterfeiting Clergymen

Special to the Journal. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 6.—In the United States District Court to-day Rev. Jerry Holmes of Stonefort, Saline county, was convicted of counterfeiting and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. Rev. George Vancil of Duquoin pleaded guilty to the same charge and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Inspecting the Union Pacific.

Special to the Journal. PORTLAND, Or., June 6.—In an interview President Dillon said: "The trip is purely an inspection tour for the purpose of becoming personally familiar with the situation of the Union Pacific in the northwest. We found the road in good condition, and it compares favorably with any in our system."

The Canadian Premier Dead.

Special to the Journal. OTTAWA, June 6.—Sir John MacDonald is dead.

The firemen, on their return from the ball at Virginia City, noticed when at the foot of the Geiger grade that one of the boxes was blazing hot, so hot in fact that it was fusing with the axle. They dispatched a man on horseback for another rig, and waited patiently until Tom Hyman sent them relief.

To Alfred Nelson is due the credit of laying the first marble sidewalk in Reno. The slabs were squared and numbered at the Essex marble works, transported by rail to Reno and put together by craftsmen in front of Mr. Nelson's store on Virginia street.

Just What Keeley, the Motor Man, Is Doing I am making a sympathetic harness for the polar terrestrial force—first, by exciting the sympathetic concordant force that exists in the corporeal interstitial domain, which is concordant to it; and, second, after the concordance is established, by negatizing the thirds, sixths and ninths of this concordance, thereby inducing high velocities with great power by intermittent negation, as associated with the dominant thirds. Again, take away the sympathetic latent force that all matter is impregnated with, the connective link between the finite and the infinite would be dissociated, and gravity would be neutralized, thereby bringing all visible and invisible aggregations back into the great etheric realm.—Interview with Keeley.

Millions of June Bugs on the Wing. Sunday a loud, roaring sound was heard, and heavy black clouds were observed passing rapidly over the city. Upon close observation it was found that the clouds were composed of millions of bugs about one inch in size. They passed from the west to the east, and the noise of their combined wings made as much sound as an express train at full speed. Several were captured, and are said to be of the "June bug" variety.—Green Castle (Ind.) Cor. Philadelphia Press.

Russian scientists are about going to northern Africa to make a study of the methods employed by the natives in resisting the inroads of quicksands. This inquiry is the result of ineffectual efforts on the part of Russian engineers to counteract the effect of quicksands in trans-Caspian sections, where thousands of acres of the best arable soil are annually used up.

An extraordinary freak of nature, a child born without eyes, is exciting great interest among New York physicians. The child is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Zuker, and was born two weeks ago. Where the child's eyes should be there are two hollows, which were originally closed tight, but finally could be opened with the fingers, disclosing sightless sockets.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own brand of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELIA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

A lock on one of the mail pouches from the west yesterday could not be opened by Postmaster Neaby nor any of his clerks. The lock would not work and they dare not out the strap as that is positively forbidden, it being the highwayman's way of getting the mail, so the Postmaster called in one of Manning's tinsmiths, who cut the iron staple.

THE THIRD PARTY DRIVES UP.

I am the Third Party!
Git onto my style,
Will you?
And my trimmin's?
By gravy,
I don't wear no socks,
And my galluses is
Fastened with a linchpin,
But I'm outtin'
A wide swath
Right down the middle,
And they can't head
Me off

And no razor-back Democrat
Nor slab-sided Republican,
Nor ring-nosed Mugwump
Kin root me out!
I'm a forty-acre field,
That you kin raise anything on
From a mortgage
To a bale of hay,
With a wagon load
Of dressin' throwed in.
And I don't give a darn
Who knows it!
I kin grub up a stump
In two shakes of a lamb's tail,
And the old political
Stumps has got to come,
Et I burst a britchin'
Doin' of it!
You hear me!
Meb' a my clo's don't fit,
And my cow-leather brogans
Hain't got no shine
On to 'em,
But that won't stop
Ther kickin'!
And brains ain't
In that send Neither!
All the American eagle
Has got to do in this business
Is to set quiet on the fence
And watch my
Thrashin' machine go
When that off mule
Gits done scratchin'
His back up agin the fence!

"A ROYAL PASS."

A Good Play and Touching Story.
One of our younger stars who has made himself a great favorite, is Mr. George C. Staley, the German dialect comedian. Mr. Staley is highly praised by our local exchanges for his finished acting and sweet singing. His play is said to be of a very high order of merit, containing a touching story, bright comedy and delightful singing. The company engaged by Mr. Parker, Mr. Staley's manager, is a very strong one and our theatre goers may be assured that the representation of "A Royal Pass" will prove an event in every way commendatory. Seats on sale at Hodgkinson's drug store.

The Pine Nut Strike.
Genoa Courier: A. R. Gray visited the new strike in Pine Nut a few days ago and corroborates former statements. Quite a number of people visited the Zinn claim last Sunday, and locations have been made a mile from the original strike. The owners of the claim are still determined in their purpose of erecting a mill at Peter Anderson's. Everybody hopes the richness of the rock will hold out; if so, it will be a bonanza.

There will be a public meeting in the M. E. Church to-morrow (Monday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. Professor Miller, Dr. Hogan, Dr. Phillips and others will address the meeting on health and hereditary diseases. Good music with songs and recitations. Everybody invited.

Sheriff Polk of Elko county, arrived yesterday afternoon on the way to the State Prison with B. A. Morris, sentenced for life for murder, and two Chinaman, one sentenced to ten months and the other to one year's imprisonment for selling whiskey to Indians.

"The Gem of the Sierras."

Free Lance: There is not a more beautiful sheet of water on the planet than Lake Tahoe, so says Bishop Vincent, Chancellor of Chautauqua. Counting its size, twenty-eight miles long by twelve wide, its great clearness, its depth, 1,800 feet, its entrancing beauty of rippling hues, and withal, its coronation of mountain heights which rear themselves more than 5,000 feet above the lake entirely surrounding it.

Special Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of Amity Lodge No. 8, K. of P., on Thursday evening, June 11th, at 8 P. M. Special work in Amplified Third and entertainment of Grand Lodge. By order of Chancellor Commander. S. J. HODGKINSON, K. of R. and S.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Public Opinion and Morality.

The Rev. Dr. Wayland thus happily describes the attitude of public opinion toward morality: "We go along and wink with both eyes at the wrongdoings and shortcomings of A. and also of B. and also of C. and all the rest of them; but by the time we get to O or P, we pull up and cry aloud that this thing has gone too far, and we must make a stand; and so we come down upon P, who is not a whit more guilty than any one else, his only crime consisting in the fact that he chanced to be standing just in the place where the lightning struck; and we denounce P; we excommunicate P; we ostracize P."

"Having done that, our virtue, wearied with the unwonted exercise, falls asleep, and all the other letters go along doing exactly the same thing, until finally, by the time X is reached, we wake up again and go through the same process. If one wants to go astray with impunity all he has to do is to select his time and run in, as it were, between the spasms of public virtue."—New York Tribune.

An Artist's Wife.

I worked hard, though there was little to show for it, as my wife told me when she turned over my many sketches. "What, three shiny poles and a lot of green water!" she exclaimed. "Was that all you did in a day? Why didn't you paint a whole view?" I do not like her to criticise my studies. She handles them unlovingly, looks at them upside down, and says, "If you would only enlarge that and make a picture of it, and put in some figures, I might have the pink dress, after all." Three palaces, several gondolas and a flock of pigeons mean the pink dress, and six palaces, more gondolas and more pigeons, mean Paris.—Von Degen.

Use This in Case of Fire.

A wet silk handkerchief tied, without folding, over the face is a complete security against suffocation from smoke. It permits free breathing, and at the same time excludes the smoke from the lungs. It is a wise thing when traveling always to keep a silk handkerchief within easy reach for the emergency of fire.—New York Journal.

Conversation Was Drowned.

Charlie—It's my new suit. When I wear it I can hardly hear anything else.—Munsey's Weekly.

HYDRAULIC MONITORS.
THE INCREDIBLE FORCE OF THE STREAMS THEY THROW.
Mountains Have Been Moved, Valleys Dug Out and the Whole Face of Nature Changed in Parts of California by Small Streams of Filling Water.
One of the most noteworthy features in many portions of the gold region is the elaborate system of water supply for the use of the hydraulic mines and the tremendous changes which were the result of the few years during which hydraulic mining was at its height. So great have been these changes—hills washed away, valleys filled up, others created—that in many localities the entire landscape has been altered.
The old proverb ascribing the power to remove mountains to such as had faith only to the amount of a grain of mustard seed has never been exemplified, but the hydraulic miners have afforded the most ample demonstration of their ability to move mountains in the search of wealth. Lofly mountains have in fact been brought low through no other agency than the pipe line, the monitor and the sluice, and the tremendous power of water never received such an exemplification as in the history of the hydraulic mines of California.
There are indeed so many remarkable facts connected therewith that, were they not abundantly substantiated, one might well be pardoned for receiving their relation with incredulity. One might not believe that a stream of water issuing from a nozzle or pipe six inches in diameter, and with no other force but gravity behind it, would have much effect at any considerable distance from the aperture, yet such an apparently insignificant stream, with a fall behind it of 875 feet, will carry away a solid boulder weighing a ton or more at a distance of fifty to 100 feet, while at a less distance it will toss such a boulder about as a boy would throw a pebble.
POWER OF WATER.
The velocity and force of such a stream as it issues from the nozzle of the monitor is something terrific. The column of water is solid—so solid that if one were to undertake to thrust any object into it it would make no more impression than if it were iron instead of liquid. If a crowbar or other heavy object be thrust against the stream it would be snatched from the hand and thrown to a great distance as if it were a feather weight, while the man who should firmly grasp an ax and attempt to cut through the stream would undergo an experience that he would remember for many a day.
If a man were to receive the full force of such a stream at a distance of a couple of hundred feet, even though the impact be momentary, he would be killed as quickly as though struck by a cannon ball. He might escape being mangled, but the breath would be most effectually and suddenly expelled from his body.
At 400 feet from the nozzle a 6-inch stream, with 375 feet fall, swung momentarily against the trunk of a tree will denude it in a second of the heaviest bark as cleanly as if an ax had been used. Whenever such a stream is turned against a gravel bank it cuts and burrows into it in every direction, gouging out great caves, causing thousands of tons of earth to fall, which in turn is quickly disintegrated and washed into the sluices.
Boulders so heavy that a man can scarcely lift them are tossed about like chaff, stumps and trunks of trees are thrown to one side like straws, and the work of destruction goes on at a pace that is appalling. If one who has never seen a monitor in operation under full head could imagine the ordinary stream from a fire hose magnified about a thousand times he would be able to form some conception of its power.
THE MONITOR IN ACTION.
The water is brought in open ditches or flumes, sometimes from a great distance, around mountain sides and across valleys and ravines. When the vicinity of the mine is reached a box is put in, from which a pipe conducts the water to the point where it is to be used. It is the distance between this box and the level of the monitor that gives the pressure. With from 300 to 450 feet fall the execution done is tremendous.
At the monitor the water is conducted into a still smaller pipe, with nozzle about one-third the size of the supply pipe, the compression giving it still greater force. The monitor is constructed something like the ordinary hose nozzle, but has a ball joint that permits it to be swung in any direction. Almost the weight of a finger will suffice to direct the movement.
Easily as it is managed, however, the monitor sometimes becomes uncontrollable, and when this happens a scene of destruction and even death ensues. The pipe sways to and fro at its own volition, and the stream flies first in one direction and then in another. If the miners are not warned in time to get out of range they may be moved down as if by the discharge of a volley of grape. Sometimes the runaway monitor seems as if manipulated by some bloodthirsty monster, and appears to be deliberately turned upon the fleeing men, following them as they fly in every direction and overtaking them before they can reach a place of safety.
When a monitor gets away from control in this manner there are two things that can be done. The water may be shut off at the headgate, a process involving much delay and perhaps loss, or some brave man may rush in and get to the monitor without being struck by the stream. To do this requires agility and pluck. The stream is liable to box the compass inside of a minute, and its course must be watched and the probable direction noted. Then over the rough surface the man must hasten, careful not to make a misstep, and at the same time ready to flee should the erratic stream betray a tendency to change its course so as to endanger life.—San Francisco Chronicle

SUMMONS.
IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE of Nevada, in and for Washoe county. The State of Nevada sends to Mary O. Carroll, Plaintiff, to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant, by Wm. H. Carroll as plaintiff, in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you a continuing to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to recover a judgment and decree of divorce, forever dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between you, the said Mary O. Carroll, and the said Wm. H. Carroll, and decreeing that there is no community property to be adjudicated, and that the property of which he is now owner in his own name, separate property. The said action is brought on the ground of desertion of him on your part for a period of more than one year past prior to the commencement of this action. All of which you are especially warned. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Reno, the 23d day of March, A. D. 1891.
